

Friday 12th June 2020

Dear Parents/Carers,

A big 'Welcome back' to those children who joined us on Monday – they have settled in beautifully.

You will have heard this week the announcement by Gavin Williamson, which stated that plans for schools to open to all pupils at the end of June have been withdrawn. However, he did indicate that schools may be able to open to more pupils in small groups, if they had the capacity to do so. Further guidance on what this might look like is expected next week where we will then be able to give you an indication if this is something we can consider at Tickford Park School. As things stand at the moment, it is very unlikely that we will be able to bring back large groups of children but we will certainly get our thinking caps on!

Summer holiday provision

Please find attached to the email, a leaflet about 'Sporty Scholars Club' summer provision.

This is a short newsletter this week which makes a change! Have a lovely weekend,

Claire
