Mad Science Workshops

We are excited to be able offer all children at Tickford Park the opportunity to join a Mad Science interactive workshop next week. These will be held through Google Meets and there will be one session per class to keep the numbers low and the interactivity high! These 45-minute workshops have been scheduled for each class as shown on the table to the right.

In order for your child to join in with the experimental part of the session, there are a few resources that they will need. These are listed on an overview document which I will send out via Class Dojo this afternoon. Please make sure that you read this before your child's session so that your child is ready to participate fully in the workshop. The overview document can also be found on our school website, here.

The links to these meetings will be published on both the school website and Class Dojo next week. We hope that lots of the children will be able to join these sessions as we are hoping that they will be an exciting way to end a rather different half-term. Children in school will be able to join in with the live session from their classrooms. Resources will be provided for children who are onsite.

The sessions will be delivered by 'Atomic Aimee' from Mad Science. You can find out more about Mad Science and the activities that they offer by visiting their website. We hope that your children will enjoy these sessions.

Voice in a Million

Due to the further cancellation of the 'Voice in a Million' music event, we will be making refunds to all parents who paid for their child to attend. A member of our admin team will contact all parents due a refund in the coming days to make the necessary arrangements. Please note that, due to the time that has passed since payments were made, these refunds cannot be issued directly through School Comms.
